The Andes rise from the Pacific coast of South America, forming a land of spectacular geographical and cultural contrasts. The Andean countries of Ecuador and Peru are famous for their tropical coasts, beautiful beaches, the snow-capped mountain ranges and the lush Amazon rainforest.

The Summer Spanish Program is based in Cuenca, Ecuador, a city of nearly 300,000 people. Nourished by four main rivers, Cuenca sits in a valley at 8,400 feet above sea level and enjoys spring-like temperatures year round. In addition to formal, classroom study in Cuenca, the Program includes several field trips. In Ecuador, students will travel to Quito and the Andean highlands, and those who opt for the 10-week program have the option of visiting the Ecuadorian rainforest and, in Peru, visit Cusco, the oldest continually-inhabited city in the New World; Trujillo, one of the first cities founded by Spanish conquerors in América; and Machu Picchu, the lost city of the Incas.

This year Augustana and CEDEI are proud to offer two options for students at the 400 level (Students who have completed a minimum of 1 course of Advanced level work at their home universities). Advanced students can opt for the 10 week program or a special 5-week intensive program. The intensive program will offer 1 course in Latin American Culture and 1 in Literature. Students can opt to enroll for 1 or both (3 or 6 credits). Students at all levels can also sign up for the 10 week option which provides a richer immersion experience and more extensive travel throughout Ecuador and Peru.

Courses Offered in Summer 2011: Courses do not offer Learning Perspective credits, however at the 300 or 400 level this program is counted as an Augustana Learning Community.
